CURRENT COMMUNIST GOALS

The forty-five "CURRENT COMMUNIST GOALS" listed below appeared in the Congressional Record of January 10, 1963. They were taken from the "Naked Communist" by W. Cleon Skousen, who began his extensive study of Communism during his sixteen year term of service with the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Mr. Skousen is now field director of the American Security Council.

1. U. S. acceptance of coexistence as the only alternative to atomic war.
2. U. S. willingness to capitulate in preference to engaging in atomic war.
3. Develop the illusion that total disarmament by the United States would be a demonstration of moral strength.
4. Permit free trade between all nations regardless of Communist affiliation and regardless of whether or not items could be used for war.
5. Extension of long-term loans to Russia and Soviet Satellites.
6. Provide American aid to all nations regardless of Communist domination.
7. Grant recognition of Red China. Admission of Red China to the UN.
8. Set up East and West Germany as separate states in spite of Khrushchev's promise in 1955 to settle the Germany question by free elections under supervision of the UN.
9. Prolong the conferences to ban atomic tests because the U.S. has agreed to suspend tests as long as negotiations are in progress.
10. Allow all Soviet satellites individual representation in the UN.
11. Promote the UN as the only hope for mankind. If its charter is rewritten, demand that it be set up as a one-world government with its own independent armed forces. (Some Communist leaders believe the world can be taken over as easily by the UN as by Moscow. Sometimes these two centers compete with each other as they are now doing in the Congo.)
12. Resist any attempt to outlaw the Communist Party.
13. Do away with all loyalty oaths.
14. Continue giving Russia access to the U.S. Patent Office.
15. Capture one or both of the political parties in the United States.
16. Use technical decisions of the courts to weaken basic American institutions by claiming their activities violate civil rights.
17. Get control of the schools. Use them as transmission belts for socialism and current Communist propaganda. Soften the curriculum. Get control of teachers' associations. Put the party line in textbooks.
18. Gain control of all student newspapers.
19. Use student riots to foment public protests against programs or organizations which are under Communist attack.
20. Infiltrate the press. Get control of book-review assignments, editorial writing, policy-making positions.
21. Gain control of key positions in radio, TV and motion pictures.
25. Break down cultural standards of morality by promoting pornography and obscenity in books, magazines, motion pictures, radio and TV.
26. Present homo-sexuality, degeneracy and promiscuity as "normal, natural, healthy."
27. Infiltrate the churches and replace revealed religion with "social" religion. Discredit the Bible and emphasize the need for intellectual maturity which does not need a "religious crutch."
28. Eliminate prayer or any phase of religious expression in the schools on the ground that it violates the principle of "separation of church and state."
29. Discredit the American Constitution by calling it inadequate, old-fashioned, out of step with modern needs, a hindrance to cooperation between nations on a world-wide basis.
30. Discredit the American founding fathers. Present them as selfish aristocrats who had no concern for the "common man."
31. Belittle all forms of American culture and discourage the teaching of American history on the ground that it was only a minor part of "the big picture." Give more emphasis to Russian history since the Communists took over.
32. Support any socialist movement to give centralized control over any part of the culture—education, social agencies, welfare programs, mental health clinics, etc.
33. Eliminate all laws or procedures which interfere with the operation of the Communist apparatus.
34. Eliminate the House Committee on Un-American Activities.
35. Discredit and eventually dismantle the FBI.
36. Infiltrate and gain control of more unions.
37. Infiltrate and gain control of big business.
38. Transfer some of the powers of arrest from the police to social agencies. Treat all behavioral problems as psychiatric disorders which no one but psychiatrists can understand or treat.
39. Dominate the psychiatric profession and use mental health laws as a means of gaining coercive control over those who oppose Communist goals.
40. Discredit the family as an institution. Encourage promiscuity and easy divorce.
41. Emphasize the need to raise children away from the negative influence of parents. Attribute prejudices, mental blocks and retarding of children to suppressive influence of parents.
42. Create the impression that violence and insurrection are legitimate aspects of the American tradition; that students and special-interest groups should rise up and use "united force" to solve economic, political or

Some additional observations of note:

1. When the CUCC (I know) reconvened in 2005 the first capture from their website shows they hadn't yet. elected their board of directors.

2. The second capture lists the entire board (meaning they had this election) This was like 30 people and remained this way for ages.

3. The third capture shows only one addition. This must have happened after their elections. That person was Roman Tatarsky from PricewaterhouseCooper.

4. They also posted biographies for all the board members on their site.

5. The only person who never got a personal bio was Ed Southern.

6. One thing that Ed Southern and Roman Tatarsky had in common was real estate. Ed owned a few properties in Calgary with his, er, life partner who was also a director at Kroes Energy. Roman Tatarsky eventually straight up moved to Ukraine and started buying up real estate.

I don't know about you all... but because of Corona this is the first time since college that I've felt alive. I have lots of silver and been waiting for something like this to happen for 5 years. The point where things get so bad that 1 silver merc dime will buy me a blowjob from a formerly well to do housewife and her 18 year old daughter at the same time. I've been waiting in the shadows laughing at these cuck husbands who buy their wives range rovers instead of buying silver bullion... knowing that I'll be face fucking their wives mouths for the 1.30$ it cost me to buy that silver dime.

Just yesterday at Whole Foods I seamlessly entered into conversation about Corona with a roastie milf that had a ring on her finger in the water aisle... and I said this is all a cover for trump to bring us back on a gold standard. She started looking at me in amazement like she wanted me to paint her lips in cum. At the end of the conversation I'm like take my number I have plenty of protection and freeze dried food if you ever need it and she took it from me

I don't know about all that, I just came out of Uni in time for this globohomo pandemic, after having a few really shitty last years with parents dying and the like.

Everything isn't all bad though, got a nice gf and a long term relationship that's doing fine.

Don't have any savings to put on the silver market though, everything invested in apartment and stuff, but I agree it's a good investment right now. Silver just going to be going up, when everything else will go down.

She also recently basically said that canadians had a lot of 'pre-loaded' money aka savings and she wanted ideas on how to take it.

For 75 years, PwC balloting leaders have kept the biggest secrets in Hollywood.

Let's face it: Accounting may not be the most glamorous line of work. It requires precision and discretion, and it's usually a behind-the-scenes gig. But once a year, for two members from PwC's Los Angeles office, the job also requires formalwear, a walk down the red carpet, some celebrity mingling and a briefcase packed with the most sought-after secrets in Hollywood.

As the official ballot tabulators for the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences annual awards—also known as the Oscars®—PwC members collect handwritten ballots, lead a team in hand-tallying the results, and then hand-deliver sealed envelopes bearing the names of the winners on Oscar night. It's an intentionally low-tech process designed to maintain the utmost secrecy, and it's been at the heart of PwC's relationship with the Academy for 75 years.

PwC handles the ballot tabulation for both the Academy Awards® nomination process and the selection of the winners. Each year, in an undisclosed location, two balloting leaders assemble a crack team of accountants to count the ballots and tally the results for each of the 24 major Oscar categories (not including scientific, technical or special achievement awards).

No scanning machines. No computers. And for all 75 years PwC has been involved, no security breaches.

"We kept the door locked and wouldn't let anyone in," says Bill Miller, balloting leader from 1954 to 1969.

"All the results were locked in the vault. We even burned the scratch paper."

NEW - Fulton County in #Georgia now says it will provide the chain of custody records for absentee ballots from drop boxes by Jan 19 – just one day before Presidential Inauguration. Gwinnett County still "locating" the forms, too. DeKalb County not sure if these exist at all.

KGB boss says Robert Maxwell was the second Kissinger

by Mark Burdman

On the evening of July 28, Germany's ARD television network broadcast an extraordinary documentary on the life and death of the late Robert Maxwell, the British publishing magnate and sleazy wheeler-and-dealer who died under mysterious circumstances, his body found floating in the waters off Tenerife in the Canary Islands, on Nov. 5, 1991. The show, "Man Overboard," was co-produced by the firm Mitteldeutscher Rundfunk, headquartered in Leipzig in eastern Germany, and Austria's Oesterreicher Rundfunk. It relied primarily on interviews with senior officials of the former Soviet KGB and GRU intelligence services, who helped build the case that the circumstances of Maxwell's death must have been intimately linked to efforts to cover up sensitive Soviet Communist Party capital flight and capital transfer to the West in the last days of the U.S.S.R.

The most revealing characterization of the nature of the Maxwell beast was provided by Stanislav Sorokin, identified as a KGB colonel responsible for "special tasks," who had used the Soviet copyright organization VAAP as a cover for his activities. Sorokin stated: "I would say that he was used by higher-ups, just as the Americans used Kissinger as a messenger or ambassador. Maxwell left England and brought with him a message from Thatcher—an unofficial one. He left Gorbachov to go to America, and tried to bring with him a message from Gorbachov."

A former press spokesman of Maxwell's at the Mirror chain of newspapers, Roy Cole, told the filmmakers: "There is no doubt that Mr. Maxwell saw himself as a type of new version of Henry Kissinger, and certainly played the role of an international Mr. Fix-It."

Sorokin's comparison to Kissinger appears on the broadcast immediately after a segment showing Maxwell's prominent role in last-minute efforts to stop German reunification. He is portrayed at a press conference, in the late 1980s, announcing the release of a laudatory English-language biography of East German dictator Erich Honecker. Maxwell is shown praising the "colossal" achievements of communist East Germany, and exchanging kisses with Honecker. In October 1989, he is telling German journalists that "German reunification is out of the question." This was only one month before the collapse of the Berlin Wall! This places Maxwell's efforts in tandem with those of then-British Prime Minister

Margaret Thatcher, who was frantically trying to prevent German reunification.

Stanislav Sorokin was one of several top-level former Soviet intelligence and political insiders who freely commented on Maxwell during the broadcast. For their own reasons, these Russians are evidently intent on provoking an international discussion of, and investigation into, the mysteries of capital flight operations out of the U.S.S.R. in the late 1980s-early 1990s. Former Soviet KGB chief Vladimir Kryuchkov, a partner of Maxwell in numerous underhanded ventures who went to jail for his role in the failed August 1991 putsch against Gorbachov, suggests in the concluding moments of the broadcast, that "the English-American [sic] secret services, who are experienced enough, could, if they want to, find the truth. That is, if they want to. I consider it possible, that more things will still come to the surface."

Such a possibility should cause particular discomfort in places like Minnesota, where Maxwell was active in his later days. He joined Mikhail Gorbachov, for whom he served as a special adviser, in trips there, to establish a "Gorbachov-Maxwell Institute." Was that, in fact, a cover for money-laundering and capital flight operations out of the Soviet Union?

A view into the underworld

The ARD broadcast is of great strategic significance. As underscored by the designation "another Kissinger," Maxwell was a special operative of the "Yalta system," working in the interface of the governments, intelligence services, and enterprises of several nations, including Great Britain, Israel, the Soviet Union, the United States, and various countries of the East bloc. The show characterizes him as "a man of many faces," who was working for several different parties at the same time, and who "liked giving each side the feeling that he was their man." Another of his "partners" in Soviet escapades, Prime Minister Valentin Pavlov, who also went to jail for his role in the failed August 1991 coup, suggests in the concluding moments of the broadcast, that Maxwell's death was probably arranged by more than one side in the old Cold War arrangements.

Maxwell, indeed, would best be seen as one of the central figures in the underworld that flourished, in different parts of
